Schools

- Public ordinary schools (93% of South Africa's schools) are the biggest focus, with approximately 850 000 schools, 12.5 million learners and 760 000 teachers. Eskom's generation infrastructure (95% of South Africa's generation capacity) is in a satisfactory condition. Major and ongoing strides in provision of water since 1994, but focus on quantity, not quality, makes water services unsustainable.

- Serious concerns remain about funding for maintenance.

- Major and ongoing provision of water is a national priority, but, focus on quantity, not quality, makes water services unsustainable.

- Serious shortage of skilled personnel and officials; governance failures increasing.

- Increase in protests in urban and rural areas – efforts to force improvement in services.

- Serious lack of credible and current condition data. Poor financial and procurement management with little accountability.

- Serious and systemic failure of infrastructure care.

- Lack of empowerment at facility level to undertake programmes of infrastructure care.

- Lack of skilled support staff to care for infrastructure.

- Serious systemic and capacity failures are typical.

- There has been further deterioration in the ageing bulk water infrastructure portfolio as a result of insufficient investment for new infrastructure, inadequate maintenance and escalating operational costs.

- There has been further deterioration in the ageing bulk water infrastructure portfolio as a result of insufficient investment for new infrastructure, inadequate maintenance and escalating operational costs.

- Serious systemic and capacity failures are typical.

- There has been further deterioration in the ageing bulk water infrastructure portfolio as a result of insufficient investment for new infrastructure, inadequate maintenance and escalating operational costs.

- Serious concerns remain about funding for maintenance.

- Major and ongoing provision of water is a national priority, but, focus on quantity, not quality, makes water services unsustainable.

- Serious shortage of skilled personnel and officials; governance failures increasing.

- Increase in protests in urban and rural areas – efforts to force improvement in services.

- Serious lack of credible and current condition data. Poor financial and procurement management with little accountability.

- Serious systemic and capacity failures are typical.

- There has been further deterioration in the ageing bulk water infrastructure portfolio as a result of insufficient investment for new infrastructure, inadequate maintenance and escalating operational costs.

- Serious concerns remain about funding for maintenance.

- Major and ongoing provision of water is a national priority, but, focus on quantity, not quality, makes water services unsustainable.

- Serious shortage of skilled personnel and officials; governance failures increasing.

- Increase in protests in urban and rural areas – efforts to force improvement in services.

- Serious lack of credible and current condition data. Poor financial and procurement management with little accountability.

- Serious systemic and capacity failures are typical.

- There has been further deterioration in the ageing bulk water infrastructure portfolio as a result of insufficient investment for new infrastructure, inadequate maintenance and escalating operational costs.

- Serious concerns remain about funding for maintenance.

- Major and ongoing provision of water is a national priority, but, focus on quantity, not quality, makes water services unsustainable.

- Serious shortage of skilled personnel and officials; governance failures increasing.

- Increase in protests in urban and rural areas – efforts to force improvement in services.

- Serious lack of credible and current condition data. Poor financial and procurement management with little accountability.

- Serious systemic and capacity failures are typical.

- There has been further deterioration in the ageing bulk water infrastructure portfolio as a result of insufficient investment for new infrastructure, inadequate maintenance and escalating operational costs.

- Serious concerns remain about funding for maintenance.

- Major and ongoing provision of water is a national priority, but, focus on quantity, not quality, makes water services unsustainable.

- Serious shortage of skilled personnel and officials; governance failures increasing.

- Increase in protests in urban and rural areas – efforts to force improvement in services.

- Serious lack of credible and current condition data. Poor financial and procurement management with little accountability.

- Serious systemic and capacity failures are typical.

- There has been further deterioration in the ageing bulk water infrastructure portfolio as a result of insufficient investment for new infrastructure, inadequate maintenance and escalating operational costs.

- Serious concerns remain about funding for maintenance.

- Major and ongoing provision of water is a national priority, but, focus on quantity, not quality, makes water services unsustainable.

- Serious shortage of skilled personnel and officials; governance failures increasing.

- Increase in protests in urban and rural areas – efforts to force improvement in services.

- Serious lack of credible and current condition data. Poor financial and procurement management with little accountability.

- Serious systemic and capacity failures are typical.

- There has been further deterioration in the ageing bulk water infrastructure portfolio as a result of insufficient investment for new infrastructure, inadequate maintenance and escalating operational costs.

- Serious concerns remain about funding for maintenance.

- Major and ongoing provision of water is a national priority, but, focus on quantity, not quality, makes water services unsustainable.

- Serious shortage of skilled personnel and officials; governance failures increasing.

- Increase in protests in urban and rural areas – efforts to force improvement in services.

- Serious lack of credible and current condition data. Poor financial and procurement management with little accountability.

- Serious systemic and capacity failures are typical.

- There has been further deterioration in the ageing bulk water infrastructure portfolio as a result of insufficient investment for new infrastructure, inadequate maintenance and escalating operational costs.

- Serious concerns remain about funding for maintenance.

- Major and ongoing provision of water is a national priority, but, focus on quantity, not quality, makes water services unsustainable.

- Serious shortage of skilled personnel and officials; governance failures increasing.

- Increase in protests in urban and rural areas – efforts to force improvement in services.

- Serious lack of credible and current condition data. Poor financial and procurement management with little accountability.

- Serious systemic and capacity failures are typical.

- There has been further deterioration in the ageing bulk water infrastructure portfolio as a result of insufficient investment for new infrastructure, inadequate maintenance and escalating operational costs.

- Serious concerns remain about funding for maintenance.

- Major and ongoing provision of water is a national priority, but, focus on quantity, not quality, makes water services unsustainable.

- Serious shortage of skilled personnel and officials; governance failures increasing.

- Increase in protests in urban and rural areas – efforts to force improvement in services.

- Serious lack of credible and current condition data. Poor financial and procurement management with little accountability.

- Serious systemic and capacity failures are typical.

- There has been further deterioration in the ageing bulk water infrastructure portfolio as a result of insufficient investment for new infrastructure, inadequate maintenance and escalating operational costs.

- Serious concerns remain about funding for maintenance.

- Major and ongoing provision of water is a national priority, but, focus on quantity, not quality, makes water services unsustainable.

- Serious shortage of skilled personnel and officials; governance failures increasing.

- Increase in protests in urban and rural areas – efforts to force improvement in services.

- Serious lack of credible and current condition data. Poor financial and procurement management with little accountability.

- Serious systemic and capacity failures are typical.

- There has been further deterioration in the ageing bulk water infrastructure portfolio as a result of insufficient investment for new infrastructure, inadequate maintenance and escalating operational costs.

- Serious concerns remain about funding for maintenance.

- Major and ongoing provision of water is a national priority, but, focus on quantity, not quality, makes water services unsustainable.

- Serious shortage of skilled personnel and officials; governance failures increasing.

- Increase in protests in urban and rural areas – efforts to force improvement in services.

- Serious lack of credible and current condition data. Poor financial and procurement management with little accountability.

- Serious systemic and capacity failures are typical.

- There has been further deterioration in the ageing bulk water infrastructure portfolio as a result of insufficient investment for new infrastructure, inadequate maintenance and escalating operational costs.

- Serious concerns remain about funding for maintenance.

- Major and ongoing provision of water is a national priority, but, focus on quantity, not quality, makes water services unsustainable.

- Serious shortage of skilled personnel and officials; governance failures increasing.

- Increase in protests in urban and rural areas – efforts to force improvement in services.

- Serious lack of credible and current condition data. Poor financial and procurement management with little accountability.

- Serious systemic and capacity failures are typical.

- There has been further deterioration in the ageing bulk water infrastructure portfolio as a result of insufficient investment for new infrastructure, inadequate maintenance and escalating operational costs.

- Serious concerns remain about funding for maintenance.

- Major and ongoing provision of water is a national priority, but, focus on quantity, not quality, makes water services unsustainable.

- Serious shortage of skilled personnel and officials; governance failures increasing.

- Increase in protests in urban and rural areas – efforts to force improvement in services.

- Serious lack of credible and current condition data. Poor financial and procurement management with little accountability.

- Serious systemic and capacity failures are typical.

- There has been further deterioration in the ageing bulk water infrastructure portfolio as a result of insufficient investment for new infrastructure, inadequate maintenance and escalating operational costs.

- Serious concerns remain about funding for maintenance.

- Major and ongoing provision of water is a national priority, but, focus on quantity, not quality, makes water services unsustainable.

- Serious shortage of skilled personnel and officials; governance failures increasing.

- Increase in protests in urban and rural areas – efforts to force improvement in services.

- Serious lack of credible and current condition data. Poor financial and procurement management with little accountability.

- Serious systemic and capacity failures are typical.

- There has been further deterioration in the ageing bulk water infrastructure portfolio as a result of insufficient investment for new infrastructure, inadequate maintenance and escalating operational costs.

- Serious concerns remain about funding for maintenance.

- Major and ongoing provision of water is a national priority, but, focus on quantity, not quality, makes water services unsustainable.

- Serious shortage of skilled personnel and officials; governance failures increasing.

- Increase in protests in urban and rural areas – efforts to force improvement in services.

- Serious lack of credible and current condition data. Poor financial and procurement management with little accountability.

- Serious systemic and capacity failures are typical.

- There has been further deterioration in the ageing bulk water infrastructure portfolio as a result of insufficient investment for new infrastructure, inadequate maintenance and escalating operational costs.

- Serious concerns remain about funding for maintenance.

- Major and ongoing provision of water is a national priority, but, focus on quantity, not quality, makes water services unsustainable.

- Serious shortage of skilled personnel and officials; governance failures increasing.

- Increase in protests in urban and rural areas – efforts to force improvement in services.

- Serious lack of credible and current condition data. Poor financial and procurement management with little accountability.

- Serious systemic and capacity failures are typical.

- There has been further deterioration in the ageing bulk water infrastructure portfolio as a result of insufficient investment for new infrastructure, inadequate maintenance and escalating operational costs.

- Serious concerns remain about funding for maintenance.

- Major and ongoing provision of water is a national priority, but, focus on quantity, not quality, makes water services unsustainable.

- Serious shortage of skilled personnel and officials; governance failures increasing.

- Increase in protests in urban and rural areas – efforts to force improvement in services.

- Serious lack of credible and current condition data. Poor financial and procurement management with little accountability.

- Serious systemic and capacity failures are typical.

- There has been further deterioration in the ageing bulk water infrastructure portfolio as a result of insufficient investment for new infrastructure, inadequate maintenance and escalating operational costs.

- Serious concerns remain about funding for maintenance.

- Major and ongoing provision of water is a national priority, but, focus on quantity, not quality, makes water services unsustainable.

- Serious shortage of skilled personnel and officials; governance failures increasing.

- Increase in protests in urban and rural areas – efforts to force improvement in services.

- Serious lack of credible and current condition data. Poor financial and procurement management with little accountability.

- Serious systemic and capacity failures are typical.

- There has been further deterioration in the ageing bulk water infrastructure portfolio as a result of insufficient investment for new infrastructure, inadequate maintenance and escalating operational costs.

- Serious concerns remain about funding for maintenance.

- Major and ongoing provision of water is a national priority, but, focus on quantity, not quality, makes water services unsustainable.

- Serious shortage of skilled personnel and officials; governance failures increasing.

- Increase in protests in urban and rural areas – efforts to force improvement in services.

- Serious lack of credible and current condition data. Poor financial and procurement management with little accountability.

- Serious systemic and capacity failures are typical.

- There has been further deterioration in the ageing bulk water infrastructure portfolio as a result of insufficient investment for new infrastructure, inadequate maintenance and escalating operational costs.

- Serious concerns remain about funding for maintenance.

- Major and ongoing provision of water is a national priority, but, focus on quantity, not quality, makes water services unsustainable.

- Serious shortage of skilled personnel and officials; governance failures increasing.

- Increase in protests in urban and rural areas – efforts to force improvement in services.

- Serious lack of credible and current condition data. Poor financial and procurement management with little accountability.

- Serious systemic and capacity failures are typical.
The focused investment over the past five years has resulted in more new infrastructure and an improvement in the condition of some existing assets. However, infrastructure at municipal level remains poor and is deteriorating in many places. Further, the resilience of all new and previously existing infrastructure is questionable without a much improved commitment to maintenance.