

Dear Sibongile

Welcome to the September Bulletin!

As we close off Heritage Month, we want to take a moment to embrace and reflect on the rich and diverse heritage of Southern Africa. The tapestry of cultures, traditions and history that bring us all closer.

While there is still a long way to go to correct some of the fallacies that we experience as a nation, there is no denying that there is progress. May we continue to cherish our diversity and remember that we grow by collaboration and realising that diversity is what makes us stronger to combat anything.

If you have any content that you would like featured in the SAICE Bulletin, and any feedback on the content that is featured, please get in touch with us on marketing@saice.org.za.

Heritage Month 2023!

Culture is important to embrace because it directs ones' path. In commemoration of Heritage Month, SAICE embraces all cultures & all traditions to ensure we continue to engage in a manner that allows our members to grow forward.

SAICE Press Releases

SAICE engages with it's media stakeholders to report on issues which affect the Built Environment on an on-going basis. Since the beginning of 2023, we have engaged on several topics of interest. SAICE is also active on social media, with an active YouTube channel housed with our most recent industry interviews.

Read our press releases on the link below and click on the social media icons at the bottom of the bulletin to keep up to date with us.

SAICE Participated At The UNESCO 9th Engineering Week & 7th Africa Engineering Conference.

The UNESCO 9th Africa Engineering Week & 7th Africa Engineering Conference took place from the 25th - 28th of September 2023 at the CSIR International Convention Center in Pretoria. It was filled with insightful engagements from our CEO, Ms Sekadi Phayane - Shakhane, who was the keynote address for the Transport discussion on the 27th of September. Mr Friedrich Slabbert also addressed delegates and discussed Transport Infrastructure building blocks.

Innocentia Mahlangu, Takaiani Netshipale, Dlozi Mnisi, Michael Mhlanga and Zwelli Mahlangu were amongst some of the young engineers who also addressed delegates at the conference, with a particular focus on young and upcoming future leaders within the engineering profession.

Overall, it has been a successful conference and well done to all the SAICE leaders and young professionals.
