Dear Sibongile

Welcome to the last July issue of the SAICE Bulletin.

As we close off Mandela Month, may we always remember that "It is impossible until it is done", may we take these words and apply them as we embark on ensuring that we make the Civil Engineering profession great. Contribute our time to grooming our Future Leaders, who are currently navigating their Civil Engineering journey.

If you have any content that you would like featured in the SAICE Bulletin, and any feedback on the content that is featured, please get in touch with us on marketing@saice.org.za.

SAICE Nelson Mandela Day 2023

Giving back to the community is always something SAICE will pride itself on doing. For Mandela Day 2023, we donated warm attire to the New Jerusalem Children's Home.

It is a pleasure to be able to assist our communities in bettering the lives of our young generation.

SAICE Press Releases

SAICE engages with its media stakeholders to report on issues which affect the Built Environment on an on-going basis. Since the beginning of 2023, we have engaged on several topics of interest. SAICE is also active on social media, with an active YouTube channel housed with our most recent industry interviews.

Read our press releases on the link below and click on the social media icons at the bottom of the bulletin to keep up to date with us.
